"Around the World in 80 Days," producer Mike Todd's first venture in film-making, was hailed the best picture of the year.

Dorothy Malone, the sexy Texan heiress of "Written on the Wind," and Anthony Quinn, the eccentric artist Gauguin of "Lust for Life," were selected the best supporting players of 1956.

Another Texas subject, "Giant," won the best directing award for George Stevens.

For Miss Bergman it was a spectacular return. Winner of an Oscar in 1944 for "Gas Light," she exiled herself from Hollywood amid scandal and scorn eight years ago.

Brynner, bald as the Oscar he held, beamed: "I hope this is not a mistake 'cause I won't give it back for anything in the world."

Born on the island of Sakhalin near Siberia, of Mongolian and Romanian parents, the 41-year-old actor won Hollywood's highest honor for his second starring picture. He recreated the role he played hundreds of times in the stage show.

The writing awards went to Robert Rich for "The Brave One" (best motion picture story); James Poe, John Farrow and S. J. Perelman for "Around the World in 80 Days" (best screenplay—adapted), and Albert M. Lasker for the French-made "The Red Balloon" (best screenplay—original).

The award for the best song in a movie in 1956 went to Jay Livingston and Ray Evans for "Whatever Will Be, Will Be" from "The Man Who Knew Too Much."

Mac Flies Home

LONDON, March 27 (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan flew home today from Bermuda talks with President Eisenhower and said Britain will save "immense sums" by using American-made guided missiles for defense.

He got a warm welcome from government officials who have been plagued during his absence by a spreading rash of strikes in vital industries.

Explosions Rip
Fireworks Plant

MEXICO CITY, March 27 (AP)—Two explosions 15 minutes apart in a fireworks plant today killed or injured scores of persons. The scene was near the airport about five miles from the center of the city.

The disastrous effect was compounded when rescuers moving in to help victims of the first blast were caught by the second.

First reports said 14 were killed and 150 injured. Police tonight said six bodies were recovered. About 30 of the injured were said to be in serious condition.

Huge Crater Created

The blast wrecked the 100x100-foot factory, leveled or damaged buildings for a block around, and shattered windows in the International Airport terminal, less than a mile away.

A crater nearly 100 feet long and 30 feet deep was left.

The factory was located on the edge of a poor residential district called Colonia Federal.

Trucks and buses moving on the Mexico City-Puebla highway beside the airport were rocked. Fifteen injured were taken from one bus badly twisted by the blast.

Dynamite In Building

Police said large quantities of powder and dynamite had been stored in the building.

The first blast occurred about noon.

Police, firemen and ambulance drivers were caught in the second explosion 15 minutes later. At least three firemen and a traffic policeman died in the second blast. Lt. Col. Rafael Garcia Esparza, assistant fire chief, was seriously injured but kept shouting orders to rescuers although barely able to move.

Bodies of victims were torn and hurled by the explosion force into trees and onto the adjoining railway.

Would-Be Suicide
Lured To Safety
By Priest, Officer

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27 (AP)—While thousands of watchers on Market Street cheered, a policeman and a Catholic priest lured a potential jumper to safety from the edge of the six-story Emporium Building in midtown San Francisco during the noon hour today.

The man was identified as Lawrence Casilac of San Francisco, who was despondent over separation from his wife and two children.

He was led to safety after nearly 40 minutes on the building cornice.

The Rev. E. Martin talked to him steadily while firemen rigged safety nets below.

Finally Patrolman Art Hagstrom slipped a rope around Casilac and he was led to safety.

Grand Old Game Of "I Can Get It For You Wholesale" Well-Liked By Beck

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—Nearly everyone has at one time or another played that grand old American game of "I can get it for you wholesale." And today a Senate investigating committee said a labor leader played it on a truly wholesale scale.

The purchases it listed included everything from a Renaissance rug — $991.19 — to five dozen diapers — $9.68 — to Dave Beck's six pair of knee drawers $27.54.

And along the way were such interesting tidbits as a $14 custom made tie, $1,918.15 for "gardening," and $2.31 for a "thing-amajig for the camera."

The witness before the committee, who is hunting for racketeering in labor unions, was Nathan Shefferman. He's a Chicago relations man who can get things

Central Figure
In War Frauds
Case Dies Broke

NEW YORK, March 27 (AP)—Murray Garsson, 68, one of two brothers imprisoned in the collapse of their 70-million-dollar World War II munitions combine, died last night. He was penniless and homeless.

His physician, Dr. Emanuel M. Josephson, took pity on Garsson when he was forced to leave his hotel last month. For three weeks Garsson slept in the doctor's reception room on E. 61st St.

"He was absolutely broke," Dr. Josephson said. "I had to give him spending money."

Garsson's hotel rent had been paid by an old business associate. However, when the man died, Garsson left the hotel rather than run up a bill.

On March 7, Garsson was found unconscious but dazed after a tumble down a flight of stairs in Dr. Josephson's building. Next day he was admitted to Bellevue Hospital where he fell into a coma from which he never emerged.

An autopsy today showed Garsson died of a brain hemorrhage, apparently suffered in the fall.

Garsson and his brother, Henry, served prison terms for bribing former Rep. Andrew May, Kentucky Democrat, who used his influence to get them wartime contracts. May went to prison.

The brothers got their first war-time contract on a borrowed letterhead. They built their business into a giant arms combine. But when a Senate investigation was begun of their affairs after the war, the government tied up most of their assets.

In 1949, May and the Garssons were convicted of war contract frauds, despite their protestations of innocence.

Two Aid Officials,
Kidnap Wife Of One

TEHRAN, Iran, March 27 (AP)—Imperial troops with camel cavalry and police tonight were reported closing in on a desert bandit gang that killed two American aid officials and kidnaped the wife of one.

Officials speculated that some of the gang may already have been captured.

Government officials identified the bandit leader of the remote southeastern desert area as a notorious 60-year-old named Dadshah who lives by occasional holdups and camel breeding.

By some reckoning he is rated Iran's public enemy No. 1.

He was reported to have a following of about two dozen but has been lying low for years in the rugged terrain near Pakistani Baluchistan.

Jeep Convoy Ambushed

Two Iranians with the Americans were killed in the bandit ambush on the Americans' two-jeep convoy Sunday.

The dead Americans were identified as Kevin M. Carroll, 37, of Issaquah, Wash., and Brewster A. Wilson, 35, Portland, Ore. All four men were found knifed to death.

The missing American woman was identified as Carroll's wife Anita, 35.

The commander-in-chief of the Iranian gendarmerie — a national police force formerly headed by Col. J. Norman Swartzkopf, the New Jersey sleuth of Lindbergh kidnapping game—told reporters tonight:

"If not already arrested, I very much hope the bandits will be taken within the next 48 hours."

1,200 Pursue Bandits

The gendarmerie boss, Gen. Alinaghi Golpiri, said 700 gendarmes, 400 soldiers and about 100 camel-borne soldiers have been assigned to capture the bandits.

"Three columns are moving in from the north, the west, and the south in hope of trapping bandits," he said.

He said Dadshah and two dozen tribal henchmen live on a remote island-travelled desert.

Carroll was a Point Four area development adviser for Kerman, Iran.

Wilson was a block development specialist of the Near East Foundation and a contractor for the International Cooperation Administration in Iran.

House Steps Up
Fund-Cut Drive

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—A House budget-cutting drive shaved another $14,391,390 today from new appropriations for the Labor Department. The drive was still going strong when the House halted for the day.

Today's reductions, all adding to cuts previously voted by the House Appropriations Committee, boosted to $14,808,100 the cuts made in two days.

The announced objective of the drive is to lop from 75 million to 100 million dollars from a bill originally appropriating $2,862,502,881 in new funds for the Labor Department, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and several minor agencies.

This cut would be in addition to $118,774,700 chopped off by the Appropriations Committee before the bill reached the House floor.

House leaders hoped to finish the bill tomorrow, when amendments affecting huge appropriations for welfare programs will be considered.

He made such comments as these as he moved down the long list:

Golf clubs, $129. Golf balls, $54. "I don't think he plays golf so he must have given them away. He's a very generous man."

Watch for golf clubs, $26.77. "What is a watch for a golf club?" Shefferman asked.

Hose, $124. Shefferman figured that was a little high for silk hose. "It must have been a garden hose," he said.

6 pr knee drawers, $27.54. "That's the payoff."

1 bow tie, $3.50. "I didn't know he wore a bow tie."

Since Beck has not wanted to discuss his fiscal affairs, it was difficult to determine just who ordered what and why. Shefferman didn't know, or care, since he was repaid—with $65,000 from union funds, the committee contends.

Noticed it.

Senate Passes
Bill Extending Business Tax

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—The Senate today passed a bill to postpone until next year a scheduled three-billion-dollar annual drop in business taxes. It did this after refusing to write in special relief for small business.

A voice vote sent the measure to the House, which had passed a somewhat different version earlier.

The House is expected to agree quickly, perhaps tomorrow, to the Senate bill which extends present corporation income tax rates and excise levies for another 15 months. The House had voted for a one-year extension.

Amendments Rejected

The scheduled tax cuts will go into effect Monday unless Congress passes an extension bill this week. The need for haste was one factor working against proposed amendments to aid small corporations.

First to be voted on—and rejected 52-33—was an amendment offered by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.). It would have cut the taxes of small corporations by 400 million dollars a year. This revenue loss would have been offset by a simultaneous increase in taxes on large companies.

Defeated by voice vote was still another amendment by Sen. Williams (R-Del.) to cut the tax depletion allowance on oil and gas income from 27½ to 20 per cent.

Necessary For Balanced Budget

The Senate bill would extend for 15 months—until July 1, 1958—present rates on corporation income and excise taxes on autos, auto parts, cigarettes, liquor, wine and beer.

Were these taxes to drop Monday, the Treasury would lose three billion dollars a year in revenue—enough to put President Eisenhower's balanced budget in the red.

The House has voted a one-year extension, to next April 1, but its leaders have said they would go along with the 15-month continuance sponsored by the Senate. The House would have to accept this formally, however, before the measure could go to Eisenhower for signing.

President Planning
Ga. Trip Next Month

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—President Eisenhower told his news conference today he is feeling "very much better" after his cruise to Bermuda to throw off a head cold, but would like to get some more sun.

A bit later, James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said Eisenhower hopes to get that additional sunshine on his annual trip to Augusta, Ga., next month. He is not considering a visit to Florida, Hagerty said, in denying a published report to that effect.

Eisenhower showed up at the news conference still showing some of the tan he acquired on the Bermuda trip. Some reporters thought his eyes appeared a bit bloodshot or watery. Asked about this later, Hagerty said he had not noticed it.

Ike Warns Against
Severe Budget Cuts

Question About 'Copters Angers Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today it is futile to talk about making "severe" cuts in his $71,800,000,000 budget.

It is futile, he said, if the United States is to maintain its position in the world and provide its citizens with programs "agreed to be necessary."

Eisenhower spoke out with vigor and sharpness, telling his news conference: "This budget was not only made carefully, it was made intelligently."

In earlier discussions of congressional maneuvers to whack into his spending plans, Eisenhower has been more restrained, and his attitude has been one of rather mild agreeableness to the possibility of cuts.

He went along with that stand today, to the extent of saying that of course it would be possible to "save money here and there, and I am all for it to the last dollar bill."

But today he got more pointed and, with a trace of annoyance, said that with some people it has become a matter of becoming "economy conscious and not realizing what they are talking about."

'Copter Query Angers Ike

Tartly, he observed: "I must say it is a very great satisfaction to me to find out there are so many economy-minded people in Washington. They didn't use to be here."

While Eisenhower seemed irked at criticisms of his budget as too high—and turned truly angry at a question dealing with his personal expense to the taxpayer—he was relaxed and easy most of the half an hour he and the reporters spent battling questions and answers back and forth.

The question that got under his skin, and made him as coldly furious as anybody around the conference had ever seen him, was this one from William McGuffin of the Chicago Daily News:

"Do you feel there are any economies you can make in the executive branch of the government to help cut government spending? For instance, would you be willing to do without that pair of helicopters that have been proposed for getting you out to the golf course a little faster than you can make it in a car?"

President Turns Red

Eisenhower turned red, and he seemed to make a positive effort to control his temper.

Then, biting off his words, he said tartly:

"Well, I don't think much of the question, because no helicopters have been procured for me to go to a golf course."

McGuffin tried to go on, but got out only one word—"Well"—before the President cut him off curtly: "Thank you. That is all."

The White House said recently two helicopters are being bought at about $60,000 apiece to carry Eisenhower between the White House and National Airport here. One would be for Secret Service men. Press secretary James C. Hagerty said there are no plans to use the machines to get to the golf course, but that he could not rule out the possibility they might be so used sometime.

Possible Slaying
Plot Foiled When
Speeder Nabbed

GLENDORA, Calif., March 27 (AP)—Police say a man arrested for speeding through this Los Angeles suburb was carrying bullets with the name of his wife and another man etched on them.

Police Sgt. Robert Bond said a revolver and the bullets were found on Wayne L. Schofield, 33. The police said they also found two sacks on the front seat containing $163. Schofield was booked on suspicion of burglarizing the service station where he worked in Los Angeles.

Sergeant Bond said four bullets in the gun had the name "Tom" scratched on the lead. The fifth had "Dorothy" etched on the casing. A sixth bullet was not marked.

The officer said Schofield told him that his wife deserted him and their four children a week ago.

Both, Pineau said, were modified in the U.S. statement of its position made afterward in the U.N. General Assembly.

As a result, the foreign minister stated, France no longer considers Israel bound by the agreement reached with France aid for the Israeli withdrawal from the Gulf coast area and the Gaza Strip.

He added that France would impose no penalties on Israel and, on the contrary, would support Israeli counteraction if U. N. Emergency Forces fail to prevent Egyptian raids on Israeli soil.

Pineau was defending policies of Premier Guy Mollet's government at the end of a two-week Parliament debate. Mollet asked the National Assembly for a new vote of confidence on his general policies—the 33rd since he took office 14 months ago. The voting is scheduled for Thursday night.

Prober Blasts
Union Leader
For ContemptTeamster Titan
Remains Silent
On Accusations

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—Teamster titan Dave Beck, a Fifth Amendment witness, wound up an initial appearance before Senate rackets probers today under scorching denunciation for "arrogant contempt."

Before senators talking of "theft" of union funds, the president of the powerful International Teamsters Union had repeatedly sought refuge behind the Fifth Amendment on all sorts of questions.

It might incriminate him, Beck declared, to say whether he borrowed $200,000 through two business firms to replenish the union treasury after federal income tax agents set out on his trail. He even said it might incriminate him to say whether he used $9.68 of union money to buy five dozen diapers.

"Off the record, senator," Beck told Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), "you are assured it's not for myself."

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), chairman of the special Senate committee investigating improper labor and industry activities, said he did not know whether Beck's refusal to answer questions constituted "actionable contempt" of Congress—punishable upon conviction by a fine and one-year jail term.

But McClellan said he intended to find out.

Beck Tongue-Lashed

It was McClellan who tongue-lashed Beck at the finale of this phase of the committee's hearings.

Beck, he said, he shown "flagrant . . . disrespect for honest unionism" and arrogant contempt for the 1½ million "honest laboring people" in his own union—the nation's largest.

And, he said, in his opinion, Beck has shown "utter contempt of this committee of Congress, of the United States and for his government. Whether that contempt is actionable or not, I am not at the moment prepared to say."

It was McClellan, too, who spoke of theft.

All the indications at the hearings, he said, have been that Beck was "taking money from his union."

"I don't know any word that would describe it less than 'theft,'" he said, "unless his union knew about it and he replaced it."

The committee contends that Beck took more than $320,000 (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Pineau Charges
U.S. Went Back
On Agreements

PARIS, March 27 (AP)—Foreign Minister Christian Pineau said today the United States had reneged on agreements it made with France on withdrawal of Israeli forces from the Gaza Strip and Aqaba Gulf.

The agreements, Pineau told the National Assembly, were made between him and Secretary of State Dulles in Washington last month.

They were, he reported, that Israel might rightfully fight back if its ships were attacked in the Gulf and that Egyptian administrators should not be allowed back in the Gaza Strip after the Israeli withdrawal.

Both, Pineau said, were modified in the U.S. statement of its position made afterward in the U.N. General Assembly.

As a result, the foreign minister stated, France no longer considers Israel bound by the agreement reached with France aid for the Israeli withdrawal from the Gulf coast area and the Gaza Strip.

He added that France would impose no penalties on Israel and, on the contrary, would support Israeli counteraction if U. N. Emergency Forces fail to prevent Egyptian raids on Israeli soil.

Bulganin Accuses Ike And Macmillan Of Anti-Red Plotting

MOSCOW, March 27 (AP)—Soviet Premier Bulganin asserted tonight President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan plotted further "subversive and provocative" actions against Communist countries in their Bermuda talks. He said the Bermuda conference was aimed at renewing the cold war against communism.

Bulganin also joined with Hungary's visiting Premier Janos Kadar in lambasting "some Yugoslav leaders" for their attitude toward last October's Hungarian revolt. The Soviet Premier followed Kadar to the microphone at a Soviet-Hungarian rally in the Kremlin.

President Tito himself was not singled out in either of the speeches. But Kadar charged that Yugoslav Vice President Edvard Kardelj and Foreign Minister Koca Popovic "took the same position on events in Hungary as U.S. Secretary of State Dulles and the Voice of Free Europe"—about the worst thing one Communist can say about another.

Bulganin said it was understandable for imperialist propaganda to describe the Hungarian rebellion as a revolution instead of a counterrevolution, the official term the Communists gave to it.

"But what can one say about Communists who describe it thus?" asked Bulganin. "Some Yugoslav leaders closed their eyes to the Fascist terror of the rebels."

Both men assailed in the strongest terms they have used yet former Hungarian Premier Imre Nagy, who called for the U.N. to guarantee Hungary's independence during the short-lived rebellion. He is now in exile in Romania.

Bulganin's speech was devoted mainly to Soviet-Hungarian relations, but he took the occasion to

Ike Would End Gas Production Curbs

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—President Eisenhower today said legislation to free natural gas producers from federal regulation is absolutely essential.

He told his news conference, however, the administration is not going to send any new natural gas bill to Congress.

Eisenhower vetoed a similar bill last year when it developed that Sen. Francis Case (R-S.D.) had been offered a $2,500 campaign contribution by lobbyists working for the passage of the bill.

Eisenhower said many people who fear that consumer prices might be raised by freeing gas producers of federal regulation sometimes lose sight of the overall problem.

As he sees it, the President said the problem is how to keep building up natural gas reserves while not allowing the people to be overcharged for the gas that is produced.

Doctor Calls Adams' Treatment Deadly

LONDON, March 27 (AP)—An eminent medical man stunned Dr. John Bodkin Adams today by branding the physician's treatment of a rich patient as a deliberate effort to kill her.

Asked for his opinion of the massive doses of heroin and morphine that Dr. Adams prescribed for Mrs. Edith Alice Morrell, Dr. Arthur H. Douthwaite replied: "The only conclusion I can come to is—that the intention was to terminate her life."

This evidence, given in a soft-spoken manner on the eighth day of Dr. Adams' trial on charges of drugging to death the widow, produced an electric effect in the packed courtroom.

Dr. Adams' mouth dropped open. Red-robed Justice Patrick Devlin leaned forward. Attorneys for the accused physician looked astonished.

Dr. Douthwaite, a tall, grey-haired man, is the senior physician at London's famous Guy's Hospital, author of medical textbooks and former president of the London Medical Society.

PRR To Lay Off 1,600 Monday

PHILADELPHIA, March 27 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad, blaming reduced business and "with the outlook for improvement uncertain," announced today it will furlough approximately 1,600 maintenance workers over the system on Monday.

Of those to be furloughed about 600 work in the big Altoona, Pa., shops where 200 men were released last March 5 because of reduced need.

A. J. Greenough, vice president of transportation and maintenance of America's largest railroad, said the Pennsy regretted "very much the necessity for this action," but added:

"With the railroads strictly regulated, the margin between income and outgo is so small that when business drops off we are compelled to move quickly to cut expenses, a large part of which is wages."

A PRR spokesman said details of work force reductions in other railroad installations, besides Altoona, had not yet been worked out and could not say how many men would be furloughed there.

Meantime, the Pennsy disclosed that stockholders at the railroad's annual meeting in Philadelphia May 7 will be asked to approve a change in the par value of stock—from $50 to $10.

Boys' Fight For Life Takes Dramatic Turn

CHICAGO, March 27 (AP)—The fight to save the lives of two young brothers critically ill with hemophilia took a dramatic turn for the better today.

Bleeding halted in both boys—John Siambones, 14, and James, 12—and a new supply of vital plasma was on hand.

The Milwaukee unit of the Midwest Chapter of the Hemophilia Foundation agreed to lend 20 pints of the plasma after the Chicago unit's supplies ran out.

The boys have been using plasma—a blood fraction that contains a substance which aids clotting—at the rate of more than a dozen pints a day.

More than 30 persons offered blood when the plight of the boys was made public yesterday, but it requires a week to process the blood into plasma.

Prober Blasts

(Continued from Page 1) from the Teamsters Union and that there is no evidence of its being a loan or a gift.

Beck Sees Exonerated Even though he took the Fifth Amendment over and over, Beck contended that when the complete story is brought out — and he thinks it will be in court because of his income tax troubles—he will be exonerated fully.

He said he had been in the trade union movement 40 of his 62 years and hadn't done one single thing which in his mind was wrong. And once there is final judgment in a court, after he faces his accusers, has the right of cross-examination, and the rules of evidence apply, Beck predicted that: "I'll be able to come out of this clean and white 100 per cent."

Almost as often as he pleaded the Fifth Amendment, the witness said he was doing so only on advice of his lawyers, to protect his constitutional rights.

Just as often as Beck contended the committee lacked authority and invoked the Fifth, McClellan overruled him and ordered him to answer. Just as often, Beck refused again.

The committee backed up with photographed copies of checks and other documents its stand that Beck never started putting money back into the union until after the Internal Revenue Service went after him in March 1954.

That chapter opened up when Sen. Ives (R-NY) asked Beck if he thought it proper for a labor organization to lend money to companies with which they are engaged in collective bargaining.

Beck said it depended on circumstances. He volunteered that he and the teamsters authorized a 1½ million dollar loan to the Fruehauf Trailer Corp., which was repaid 14 months later. But he said that in other instances keen judgment would dictate against a loan.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy took that opening and asked whether Beck had ever received any money directly or indirectly from Fruehauf. Beck took the Fifth Amendment.

Before Beck took the stand, the committee hammered away at its contention that the teamster chief lavished $85,000 of union funds on diapers, knee drawers, roofing, rugs and all sorts of cut-rate items for himself, his relatives and his home.

Mirthful spectators in the marble-columned Senate caucus room guffawed as the list unfolded. There was even $8 for repairing Beck's false teeth.

Beck even smiled himself, at times. He wasn't doing the testifying, though. That was left to his Chicago friend, Nathan Sherman, who said he made the purchases for Beck with his own money at discounts and Beck paid him back.

Pentagon Guard Shot In Argument Dies

FREDERICK, March 27 (AP)—A murder warrant was issued today for William I. Baker of Sunnyside, sought since Monday in the shooting of Robert R. Gaskins, 46-year-old Vienna, Va., Negro and Pentagon guard.

Gaskins died tonight in a Leesburg, Va., hospital of a rifle bullet wound State Police said he received Monday in an argument with Baker at Baker's home in nearby Washington County.

Baker, a white man and the father of four children, has been the object of a 13-state alarm since the shooting.

State Police said Gaskins and several other Negroes visited Baker Monday night and an argument started. Witnesses, including Baker's wife, told police Baker shot Gaskins in the chest, then took the rifle and drove off in his car. He has not been seen since.

Gaskins' friends drove him to the Leesburg hospital where he died tonight.

Baker, 48, who walks with the aid of two canes, had been crippled since last year when he broke his back in a fall.

Beck Once Voted To Oust Profs Who Invoked Fifth

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—Teamsters boss Dave Beck testified today he once voted to oust University of Washington professors who invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions about communism.

Beck acknowledged this to the Senate committee investigating rackets in response to a question. It was one of the few questions to which Beck did not reply by invoking the Fifth and pleading his constitutional rights to remain silent.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said Beck in July 1948 was quoted on the case of the professors as saying:

"Americans who live the American way of life do not have to hide behind technicalities."

Beck was quoted further as saying he had "no time for individuals who take the Fifth Amendment."

Beck shouted that he was then, and always had been, against communism 100 per cent.

"I'm not asking you how you feel about communism," Mr. Beck, Kennedy said. "Did you vote against those professors?" "Yes, I did."

"Being retained?" "Being retained," said Beck. Beck's vote was as a member of the university's Board of Regents.

Contempt Jury Trial Guarantee Sought

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—A bill to guarantee jury trials for persons accused of contempt for disobeying federal court injunctions was introduced today in an offshoot of the battle over civil rights legislation.

Sen. Eastland (D-Miss), chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, introduced the bill for himself and Sens. Byrd (D-Va.) and Thurmond (D-SC).

Southern opponents of the Eisenhower administration's civil rights bill charge that it would permit "government by injunction" and deprive the defendant of a trial by jury.

Ike Signs Housing Mortgage Fund Bill

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed into law a bill making half a billion dollars in additional government loan funds available to relieve the tight market for housing mortgages. The increase was urgently sought by the administration.

President Eisenhower asked for a billion dollars of additional loan funds, but Congress cut his request in half. Leaders said more money could be voted later in the 1957 general housing bill.

The half-billion goes to the Federal National Mortgage Assn., known as Fannie Mae, which buys government-backed housing mortgages from builders and lenders when private funds are not available.

Dulles, Macmillan Stories About Big Two Talks Differ

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, March 27 (P)—Secretary of State Dulles and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan are talking out of different sides of their mouths.

They are doing so in interpreting the achievements of the Eisenhower-Macmillan conference at Bermuda with respect to future cooperation between Britain and the United States in the Middle East.

They apparently are placing a different emphasis on the importance of the Bermuda talks. Moreover, Dulles came very close yesterday to contradicting what Macmillan had said publicly at Bermuda on Sunday.

The reason for the differences seems to be that the British government has an interest in demonstrating the return of almost total harmony between London and Washington. But the United States government is trying to maintain its influence with the Arab states as well as Israel while becoming much more friendly with Britain again. Hence it does not want to show too close an understanding with the British on all points.

Dulles told his news conference yesterday that the President and he had held long informal talks with Macmillan and Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd at Bermuda but that they did not lead to any agreement on the Middle East.

The exchanges of views were useful, he said, in making it more likely that there would be a common policy. But he said the contingencies in that region—meaning the future of the Suez Canal and Israeli-Egyptian disputes—are so unpredictable that it seems unprofitable to try to reach a formal agreement.

Macmillan told a news conference at Bermuda on Sunday, in talking about the Middle East and United Nations efforts to obtain a settlement there, that "the British and American governments have agreed on the line they propose to take in the short term and in the long term."

Macmillan was asked whether there were any unresolved issues between Britain and the United States in the Middle East and he said he did not think there are any "in principle." Furthermore, he said, preparations were made at Bermuda for carrying on close consultation on Middle East problems between the United States and Britain.

The differences shown over the Middle East are reflected also in reports from Bermuda and from Washington about whether there were any written, secret agreements reached in the conference. British sources at Bermuda said they did not lead to any agreement yesterday that there were. The White House here denied it.

Corner Mailbox May Disappear

WASHINGTON, March 27 (P)—A custom "generations old"—placing mailboxes on street corners—may be changed in congested city areas, the Post Office said today.

Postmaster General Summerfield disclosed a plan to move the boxes from busy corners in business sections to points along the block where postal trucks can pull in for pickups without interfering with vehicular traffic and pedestrians.

The plan, devised "in the interest of community safety," depends on agreement by city officials and won't be put into effect without their approval, Summerfield said in a statement.

Residential and suburban areas won't be affected.

New Drug For Emotional Ills

ST. LOUIS, March 27 (P)—A new mental medicine can often fix the mind's stuck-record type of worrying or neurotic thinking, a Danish physician said yesterday.

The drug jarring the stuck needle loose is benactazine, newest in a growing list of medicines for mental and emotional ills.

Dr. Erik Jacobsen of Copenhagen said its main promise seems to lie in treating various psychoneuroses, particularly anxieties and obsessive-compulsive reactions.

"The endless painful remination on the unsolvable problem is broken," he said. "Patients say they find the drug builds a barrier between them and painful inner or outer stimuli."

He said it also benefits some cases of depression, hypochondria, and physical pains or ailments caused by emotions.

Dr. Jacobsen conducted the first experiments nearly four years ago with benactazine.

The drug was introduced at a technical exhibit of the American Academy of General Practice Sessions here, under the trade name Suavitil. Dr. Jacobsen spoke at a luncheon sponsored by the Manufacturer, Merck Sharp & Dohme, Philadelphia.

The drug firm termed benactazine a new treatment for persons disabled by anxiety, tension, depressions, or repetitive compulsive thinking.

No one knows who actually was the first person to step ashore from the Mayflower in 1620.

Mindszenty Rounding Out 5th Month In U.S. Haven

VIENNA, March 27 (P)—Hungary's Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty will round out the fifth month of his asylum in the U.S. legation in Budapest April 4.

He took refuge there when the Russian army attacked Budapest Nov. 4 and crushed an uprising of Hungarian anti-Communists.

There is no idea of what the outcome will be in this most spectacular case of political refuge resulting from the modern Hungarian revolution.

Will the Communist government some day soon demand that he be turned out of his sanctuary and make himself liable to be arrested again?

Would U.S. authorities comply with such a demand?

Word from Budapest is that nobody seems worried about a possibility of such a government demand now despite increasing attacks on Cardinal Mindszenty in the Hungarian Red press.

He is less of an embarrassment to U.S. authorities now than he was two months ago. That was when his nominal protector was U.S. Minister Edward T. Walleis, an envoy who left rather than present his credentials to the Soviet imposed government of Premier Janos Kadar.

U.S. diplomats who recently visited Vienna said Mindszenty may remain in the legation indefinitely.

They say he never mentions the prospect of leaving. No Americans ask him about it.

And from here it appears unlikely that the Kadar government would demand that the Americans expel him. The government is well aware of his popularity among the Hungarians, no matter what their religious belief.

The Kadar regime would not like to face the problem of what to do with him.

Janos Horvath, head of the Hungarian government's Bureau of Religious Affairs, contended in a statement March 10 that Mindszenty's life prison sentence is still in effect.

He claimed that his liberation by insurgents last Oct. 30 represented "only an interruption of his sentence."

This correspondent, who also took refuge in the U.S. legation, recalls that Mindszenty cited international law or tradition that allows princes of the Roman Catholic Church to ask the aid of any government in time of danger.

This correspondent recalls the night everyone was ordered into the legation cellar because of a reported Russian ultimatum to bomb the city.

We talked quietly about his health.

Then he added, "Somebody has to stay free to tell the world what is happening here." Gazing fixedly before him for a few moments, he said in a softer tone, "I don't want to go back to prison, you know."

Miners To Get Pay Hike Starting Monday

WASHINGTON, March 27 (P)—The nation's soft coal miners—numbering almost 200,000—Monday will start collecting and additional 80 cents daily.

The contract provided a two-stage $2 per day increase in wages with $1.20 effective last October and the other 80 cents effective April 1.

Also included in the contract were holiday benefits worth 10 cents a day.

The contract provisions increased the basic daily pay for miners to $22.25.

Psychologists Say Pop Needs More Attention

NEW YORK, March 27 (P)—The time has come, a group of social scientists agreed this week, to pay more attention to Pop.

There's been too much emphasis, the Child Study Assn. of America was told, on the emancipation and growing importance of women.

"So much self-consciousness has arisen," reported Dr. Janet Riach to the annual convention, "that both men and women are blocked in spontaneous behavior."

Dr. Riach, faculty member of the William A. White Institute of Psychiatry, Psychoanalysis and Psychology, said the long-established pattern of family life in which father was the boss has largely disappeared.

Another speaker, Dr. Otto Klineberg, Columbia University professor of psychology, said:

"It is time to reassess the role of the man in the American family. We are getting a little tired of 'momism'—not that we want to exchange it for a 'neo-popism'... Specialists on the family are becoming more aware of the part men play, and... have decided that women should not receive all the credit—or all the blame."

Dr. Irene Josselyn, of the Chicago Institute of Psychoanalysis, added:

"In spite of the biological and inherent psychological differences... we are drifting toward a social structure made up of he-women and she-men."

Dr. Ray Lee Birdwhistell, anthropologist from the University of Buffalo, noted with some uneasiness that "while I have seen many little girls explicitly instructed and rewarded for being 'little mothers,' I have never seen a male either instructed or rewarded or punished for behavior modeled on a future father role."

Although much study is needed of changing family behavior, Klineberg found "one conclusion, however seems pretty reasonable..."

"Excessive authoritarianism has unhealthy consequences, whether it wears skirts or pants, and the ideal of equal rights and equal responsibilities is not only pertinent to a good democracy but also to a healthy family."

Senate Backs Legislation To End Potomac Compact

ANNAPOLIS, March 27 (AP)—The Senate brushed aside "go slow" warnings from Virginia and approved today legislation to junk the 172-year-old Potomac River Compact between the two states.

By a voice vote the senators unanimously adopted a favorable Judiciary Committee report and set up for enactment, probably tomorrow, two bills.

One would repeal the 1785 act by which this state entered the compact giving Virginians equal fishing and navigation rights in the Maryland-owned river.

The other would guarantee them the same rights, subject to licensing and regulation by Maryland authorities.

Unlike the compact itself, neither would require approval by both states for any law governing use of the river to become effective.

The legislation, introduced by three Southern Maryland delegates, was the outgrowth of an interstate "oyster war" involving watermen and conservation law enforcement officials from both sides.

Senate floor action came after the Judiciary Committee approved the bills by a 7-3 vote.

The committee vote came after Sen. Cole (R-Balto 4th) declared Virginia authorities "apparently are conspiring in violation" of conservation laws.

He quoted Maryland Conservation Chief Robert Lee Shores as saying a Virginia enforcement officer admitted someone in higher authority ordered him "not to arrest Virginians who violated these laws."

Shores testified before the committee yesterday that Virginia officials refused to turn over to him three men chased across the state line after being discovered illegally dredging oysters in the Maryland river.

Virginia legislators, testifying at the same hearing, urged defeat of the legislation and creation of a new joint commission to work out Potomac problems.

Woman Guilty As Accessory In Mate's Death

BALTIMORE, March 27 (AP)—Mrs. Thelma S. Burgess was sentenced to not more than 18 years in prison today to become the third person to go to jail in the ambush slaying of her husband last September.

A jury convicted the short, plump woman of being an accessory in the fatal shooting of Leonard Burgess last Sept. 29.

As the guilty verdict was pronounced, she clenched her hands on a trial table. When Chief Judge Emory H. Niles imposed sentence she slumped sobbing into a chair.

Fifteen-year-old Joseph T. Tromber was previously sentenced to years for second degree murder in the rifle slaying. The Burgess 15-year-old daughter, Diane, Tromber's girl friend, drew a like sentence as an accessory in planning the murder.

Mrs. Burgess was turned over to Sheriff Joseph Deegan for delivery to the State Reformatory for Women.

Her attorney, W. Carroll Parks, said no motion for a new trial was to be filed.

The Burgess' also have a son, 14.

Gretna Green is the name of a Scottish village once famous for eloping couples.

Father Who Beat Infant Receives Prison Sentence

HAGERSTOWN, March 27 (AP)—Frank D. Henson, 20-year-old Hagerstown father, was sentenced to two years in prison today for beating his two-months-old child.

The baby has been hospitalized since Feb. 20 from malnutrition and a blow on the head. State's Atty. Tom Kaylor said medical advisors had told him it would be several years before they could tell if the child's brain had been injured permanently.

Henson admitted to Judge Evan Crosey that he hit the child because its crying made him nervous.

Henson was convicted a year ago of beating an older child—five months old at the time—and was sentenced to 90 days in jail and given a suspended one-year prison term.

The judge told Henson that drinking and his failure to work caused most of his problems.

The mother is 16 years old.

Assessment Freeze Order Withdrawn

HAGERSTOWN, March 27 (AP)—The Washington County commissioners today unanimously agreed to withdraw their order freezing property assessments in the county until the first of next year.

The commissioners acted after receiving a notice from the State Tax Commission that they had no authority to freeze assessments and therefore their resolution of Feb. 19 was invalid.

The Tax Commission backed up their statement by an opinion from the attorney general.

The county commissioners, in their resolution, stated that their general policy would be "to refuse to raise upward all present assessments until Jan. 1, 1958."

Executive Secretary Albert Ward of the tax commission said the county, by its action, was upsetting a state-wide practice of assessing property as nearly as possible on its current valuation.

Former D.C. Police Chief Posts Bail

BALTIMORE, March 27 (AP)—Robert J. Barrett, former police chief of Washington, D. C. accused of cheating on federal, income tax returns, today posted $1,000 bail in U. S. District Court.

The federal grand jury returned an indictment against Barrett yesterday. The two-count charge accused Barrett of underestimating his income by $12,224 in 1950 and 1951 to avoid paying taxes.

M'Keldin Heaps Praise On State Mother Of Year

ANNAPOLIS, March 27 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin, "speaking as one of 11 children," heaped praise today on Montgomery County's "beloved Miss Lucy."

The occasion was the official designation of Mrs. Lucy Barnsley of Rockville, 75-year-old retired school teacher, as 1957 Maryland Mother of the Year.

The governor presented Mrs. Barnsley with an award of merit from the American Mothers Committee Inc. and added a citation and certificate of his own.

Mrs. Barnsley, widow of Thomas Barnsley, a Montgomery County dairy farmer, is active in civic, church and club work.

Now program chairman for Montgomery County's Committee on Aging, she also heads the county's Retired Teachers' Assn. and is former community chairman of the Girl Scouts of America.

The governor said he recently told a group of young girls visiting the Statehouse that they will never appreciate the sacrifices made by their mothers "through love that passes all understanding" until they, themselves, become mothers.

He said Mrs. Barnsley "has served her community and her State far beyond the call of duty and the requirements of good citizenship."

Mrs. Barnsley was selected for the honor by a committee representing the Maryland Women's Council, the Auxiliary of State Hospitals, the Council of Churches, the Federation of Women's Clubs and the American Mothers Committee.

Mrs. Ernest P. Hook of Baltimore, state chairman of the American Mothers Committee, presented awards of merit to four other nominees who were present at today's ceremony.

They were Mrs. Grank G. Baldwin of Annapolis, Mrs. Kermit Goltz of Accident, Mrs. Thomas P. McDonagh of LaPlata and Mrs. George Alt of Baltimore.

Mrs. Barnsley retired only a few years ago as a county school teacher. She still serves as a substitute at the West Rockville Elementary School and conducts private tutoring and instruction in remedial reading.

Today, the two-count charge accused Barrett of underestimating his income by $12,224 in 1950 and 1951 to avoid paying taxes.

2 ... she was dripping with perspiration—but ARRID will do the same for your underarms, too.

3 Just rub ARRID in—rub perspiration and odor out. When the cream vanishes you know you're safe, even in hot, stuffy rooms.

4 ARRID with Perstop®, used daily, keeps your clothes safe from ugly perspiration stains, keeps your underarms dry, soft and sweet.

5 Doctors have proved in laboratory tests that ARRID with Perstop® is 1½ times as effective as all leading deodorants tested against perspiration and odor.

On The Line by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, March 27 (INS)—The passing show . . .

Dr. George S. Sperti, whose genius contributed so much to food research, has busied himself for the past several years at the American Society for the Aged, Inc., in Palm Beach, working on a cancer vaccine. It has shown "promising" results in combating spontaneous cancer development in a special strain of laboratory mice. We called on him recently and found him, as is customary with all responsible research people, engaged in that grim contest with cancer, to that holding his enthusiasm under strong rein. He and his associates have not yet issued medical papers on their field of research but will do so in the near future.

The vaccine is prepared from a tumor that is frozen instantly after removal. In time it is immersed in alcohol for a prescribed period and, in gummy form, is injected back into test animals.

The strain of mice being used in the test are from the biological laboratories of Drs. C. C. Little and Roscoe B. Jackson of Bar Harbor, Maine.

An average of 90 per cent of them will develop cancer during their life span. A group isolated by Sperti and his associates, and treated with the vaccine, has been showing a 20 per cent cancer rate.

"This is just one approach in a great project," Sperti said of his work. "It is no secret that the body can cure many ailments which besets us. Perhaps some day we can help the body take care of cancer cells as other great vaccines have helped it cure other ills."

The greatest concentration of Admirals in U. S. naval history will take place in New York during the first three days of May. We are informed by Read Admiral John J. Bergen, national vice president of the Navy League of the U. S.

Fifty wartime combat admirals, plus Marine generals and top decorated enlisted sailors and Marines, will parade and be dined and wined here — headed by Fleet Admirals Nimitz, Leahy and Halsey.

Marvin Stone, our man in Tokyo, sends me a copy of "Yominuri", Japan's largest paper, containing the Japanese language account of a recent interview we had with George Kennan, former American ambassador to Moscow.

The builders of the French commercial jet, Caravelle, announce in advance the various records it will set on scheduled U. S. routes when it is shown here soon. It is an 80-passenger job powered by two Rolls-Royce Avon engines. It is smaller than the 707 and the DC-8 that is being built, and claims only a modest (for the jet age) 500 m.p.h.

Its people have decreed that it will fly from Miami to New York (but where will it land, messieurs?) in two hours 45 minutes, New York to Chicago in two minutes under two hours, from L. A. to San Francisco in an hour, Washington to Atlanta in one hour 33 minutes, Miami to Houston in two hours 40 minutes, Dallas to Kansas City in one hour 26 minutes, San Francisco to Seattle in one hour 57 minutes. Tres fast!

St. Mary's Church To Expand School

A general meeting of the parish-class rooms will be added, corridors and coat-rooms of St. Mary's Catholic Church was held Tuesday night. Boys' and girls' lavatories, to discuss plans for the renovation and additions to the church's principal office, sisters' community and music rooms and a ground floor chapel in the new convent extension.

Rev. Lawrence Landrigan, pastor, said the plans have been submitted by the Gaudreau and Gaudreau Architects of Baltimore.

Father Landrigan said one of the improvements to the school will be the addition of several meeting rooms in the basement, boys' and girls' lavatories, increased recreational area, new lavatories and storage space.

On the first floor eight new

The frontal appearance of the school and convent will also be developed on new lines, the pastor said.

Father Landrigan said with such a building program the borrowing of a large sum of money will be necessary and the parishioners must realize the urgency of having suitable plans made other than by a time campaign with its usual pledge commitments.

The pastor said the project must be a parish-wide program, with unity of purpose, and power so as to produce the needed action that will get the job under way.

Plans for the citywide census to be taken this month by Catholic churches in Western Maryland were also discussed at last night's session.

City Civil Service Board Declines Ruling On Jobs

The Civil Service Commission has declined to define the duties of policemen and firemen, as requested by a committee from the Police and Firemen's Welfare Association. The board said it lacks jurisdiction to outline specific jobs for individual department members.

The police and firemen's group met with the local Civil Service board in the Civil Service office at City Hall Monday night to cite several grievances and to request certification of certain points in the rules and regulations governing employees of the two departments under Civil Service.

Pointing out that the board is not qualified to determine specific facets of work done by the two city departments, the members of the Civil Service board told the committee to make any special requests in writing to the board for study and possible action.

The policemen and firemen were particularly interested in determining if liability and security benefits could be obtained for department members with the help of the Civil Service Board and also if methods of giving and grading examinations could be reviewed.

The board told the police and firemen they would have to find relief from some other source for their security benefits, but that the board would welcome any requests from the association.

Access Roads Bill Killed

ANNAPOLIS, March 27 (AP)—The House of Delegates rejected today a bill that would require owners of adjacent property to pay for roads giving them access to controlled highways.

The delegates voted 66-31 against the bill by Del. Cannon (D-Wicomico).

The State Roads Commission now bears the cost of building access roads.

Singing Delegates

The House of Delegates tonight sang its approval of a bill authorizing the state to spend $5,000 each summer to conduct a Maryland Day Baseball Tournament for youngsters between 14 and 18.

Del. Boone (D-Balto County) reported the bill favorably out of his Ways and Means Committee and asked its sponsor to lead the House in voicing approval.

The 123 delegates joined Del. Brooks (D-Balto 3d) in singing "Take Me Out to the Ball Game."

Speaker Luber (D-Balto 5th) declared the bill passed on second reading.

Rockfish Bill Dead

The rockfish bill, kicked around by the House of Delegates since Jan. 18, was killed tonight.

The delegates voted 54-43 to "lay the bill on the table"—parliamentary language for "kill it and forget it."

The measure, which would have banned rockfishing in Maryland during January and February, had been the subject of lengthy debate and the object of stealthy maneuver since the day of its introduction by Del. Baynes (D-Balto 6th).

Point System Out

Another of the flood of motor vehicle bills in the Legislature bit the dust today. And one more was watered down considerably.

The Senate Judiciary Committee killed creation of a point system for violations leading to suspension and revocation of driving licenses. The bill had been approved by the House of Delegates.

The House also had favored all driving licenses being subject to renewal every three years. The Senate Judiciary Committee reduced it to one renewal by mail next year.

The last renewal of Maryland driving licenses was in 1936.

Vocation Posters To Be Exhibited

Posters entered in the Vocations poster contest sponsored by the Western Maryland CSMC will go on exhibit today at 7:30 p. m. at the Cumberland Free Public Library.

The posters will be judged tonight by Theodore P. Foote, art education supervisor for the Board of Education, and Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian of the Cumberland Free Public Library. A cash award will be presented to the designer of the winning poster by the Catholic Students Mission Crusade conference formed by Catholic high school students of this area.

The contest, the first of its kind here is being held in connection with the March observance of Vocations month.

Students In County To See 'Simple Simon' Show

Elementary school students in Allegany County will have an opportunity next week to view the Rockefeller Players presentation of "Simple Simon," brought here under the sponsorship of Allegany County Council Parent Teacher Associations.

Two performances will be presented Monday at Fort Hill High School with a single showing at Bruce High School, Westernport, and another single showing at Central Elementary, Lonaconing, on Tuesday.

Single performances will be given Wednesday at Beall High School, Frostburg, and Mt. Savage High School.

The play, written by Aund Harris and produced and directed by Lucille Rockefeller, is in three acts and takes place in the courtyard of a palace in a make-believe country. Members of the cast are all professionals with wide experience on Broadway, television and summer theatre.

Motion Argued In Court Here

Arguments were heard Tuesday on a motion by counsel for the Western Maryland Railway Company for a judgment in favor of the railway despite a $404.50 Allegany County Circuit Court jury verdict in favor of the Westernport man who has sued the railway.

Judge Harris said he took the matter under advisement and will make a decision in a few days.

The jury, which deliberated about an hour last November 19, returned a $404.50 verdict in favor of Elmer L. Coop of Westernport for loss of his automobile which was virtually demolished when struck by a backing Western Maryland train near the Ridgeley Town Hall last March 31.

It was testified at the trial that Coop's car was worth about $500 before the accident and salvage of the wreckage brought only $93.50.

The motions for a new trial and for a judgment in favor of the defendant were made November 20. Judge Harris then signed an order December 14 extending the time for the hearing on the motion to the January term of Circuit Court.

At Tuesday's hearing W. Earle Cobey was attorney for Coop and Walter C. Capper for the railway.

Five Area Men Join US Navy

Five area men have enlisted in the U. S. Navy at the local recruiting station.

George Timothy O'Baker, 17, Locust Grove, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Charles O'Baker enlisted for a minority period.

John William Stafford, 26, son of Mrs. Margaret M. Stafford, 307 Footer Place, Thomas Francis Turney, 19, of 49 Alder Street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Turney, enlisted for four years each.

Action On Quarry Lease Is Deferred

Directors of the Evitts Creek Water Company met yesterday afternoon in the office of Mayor Roy W. Eves to discuss the granting of a lease for a quarry site in Bedford County to the Super Stone Company, Inc.

Action was held in abeyance, a spokesman said, pending further consideration of the proposal.

themselves felt that way and that they would be happy to get whatever the Legislature could afford.

"I don't think we should be criticized and blamed for giving three-fourths of a loaf when they didn't get the whole thing," he added.

Northrop said his committee was told during its studies that a $400 boost in scales for teachers was the most urgently needed item for recruiting purposes.

He said higher pay for principals and others, who would share equally with teachers in the increase, could be made up by local governments.

The Senate also today quickly approved bills calling for repeal of the 1785 compact with Virginia, and licensing by Maryland of Virginia fishermen in the Potomac River. The measures were set up for final passage, probably tomorrow.

The Senate's Judicial Proceedings Committee approved a bill calling for creation of a five-man State Roads Commission, and planned to report it to the floor tonight.

Sen. Goldstein (D-Calvert), sponsor of the measure, argued that the wider geographic representation proposed in the bill would facilitate handling of highway matters.

The present commission consists of three members. Similar bills have failed to pass at previous sessions.

Judge Rules Against Vote On Bonds

Chief Judge George Henderson yesterday ruled unconstitutional a Frostburg ordinance which provides for that community to hold a special election on a $100,000 bond issue to acquire a site and contribute to the erection of a building for a garment factory.

The jurist also restrained the City of Frostburg and the Board of Election Supervisors from holding a proposed special election on March 30 in connection with the bond issue.

Costs in the "friendly" suit, brought by William S. Jenkins, were ordered to be paid by Frostburg.

Judge Henderson in his opinion stated he would prepare and file a written opinion citing the various authorities which hold that laws such as the Frostburg ordinance (Section 248) are unconstitutional. He added that the city, without waiting for the filing of the final opinion, may immediately appeal from his ruling. The opinion also stated that the Attorney General of Maryland is filing a disclaimer of any interest in the proceeding.

The ordinance in dispute reads:

"In order to encourage industrial development in the City of Frostburg, the City of Frostburg shall have the power to purchase property and to construct or reconstruct buildings or other structures to be used by the manufacturing companies agreeing to locate in Frostburg.

"The city shall enter into an agreement with any such manufacturing company which shall provide that the company shall purchase the land and buildings and structures by means of installment payments over a period of years not to exceed 25. "Until the entire purchase price has been received by the city, the land, buildings and structures shall remain the property of the City of Frostburg.

"For the purpose of this section, the City of Frostburg shall have the power to issue bonds or other certificates of indebtedness subject in each instance to receiving the prior approval of the voters of the city in a referendum vote.

"Not more than $100,000 in bonds or other certificates of indebtedness may be issued and outstanding at any one time under the provisions of this section."

The ordinance passed in pursuance of the purported authority given in Section 248 specified that a special election would be held March 30 to enable the voters of Frostburg to pass on this question:

"Shall the City of Frostburg be authorized to issue bonds on the credit of said city in a sum not to exceed $100,000 for the purpose of obtaining a site and contributing to the construction of a building for a garment factory for the Cumberland Undergarment Company?"

The bill of complaint said such an election would involve a needless expense, since Section 248 is invalid as authorizing the expenditure of public funds for a non-public purpose.

Edward J. Ryan, attorney for Frostburg, filed an answer alleging the proposed bond issue would be for the benefit of the citizens of Frostburg, and for a public purpose.

Vaccine Price-Fix Inquiry Scheduled

TRENTON, N. J., March 27 (AP)—A dozen manufacturers of Salk antipolio vaccine have been ordered to appear before a grand jury here in a price-fixing investigation next month, it was disclosed today.

A government source who declined use of his name said one of the manufacturers subpoenaed was from New Jersey and the 11 others were from throughout the country.

Earlier Asst. U. S. Atty. Gen. Victor R. Hansen said in Washington that the antitrust division had started a probe of price fixing charges in the past two weeks.

The government source said Trenton was chosen to hear the investigation because it was close to many manufacturers and because some transactions took place in New Jersey.

Two Buildings Will Be Razed

The two-story brick and frame buildings from 42 to 52 Bedford Street are to be razed, Charles G. Holzshu of the J. H. Holzshu Company, announced yesterday.

Holzshu said the three-story building at the corner of Bedford and Centre streets which is the site of Sterling Electric Company will not be affected.

Tenants of the two-story properties were served eviction notices Tuesday effective the last day of April, Holzshu said, adding that work on removing the buildings would begin as soon as possible after that date.

Holzshu did not reveal any plans for the property's use after the buildings are razed. The buildings were constructed 70 or 80 years ago.

Rumors of a sale yesterday at City Hall raised the possibility that a privately-operated parking lot might go into the site. The property has figured prominently in discussions concerning an off-street parking program here.

People with dark skins are bitten much more frequently by mosquitoes than people with light ones.

Four Truckers Fined Here

Four truckers hauling sand to the local Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company expansion project were fined more than $160 in unusual cases yesterday in Trial Magistrate Court.

The truckers were given hearings before Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick on charges of hauling overweight. The charges were preferred by Richard F. Boyle of the State Roads Commission.

During the testimony, Officer

Boyle told the court the men had produced weight slips from Pennsylvania showing their loads were within the limits of the law.

Boyle said the State Roads scales revealed all four trucks were overweight. One driver was taken to the local scales, and the figure shown on the Maryland State scales proved the same as the city's.

Magistrate Dick concluded that the truckers were not getting a correct figure from the Pennsylvania scales.

Because the trucks showed an overweight on both the state and city scales the four were fined by Magistrate Dick. The fines follow:

Glenn Y. Fritz, Mercersburg, Pa., fined $33.75 for being 1,653 pounds over on his second axle. He was apprehended on U. S. Route 40, east of Town Hill.

Royce E. Crabtree, Oldtown, forfeited $35.45 for being 1,700 pounds over on his second axle. He was arrested near Cresap-town.

Donald M. Adams, RD 2, Frostburg, fined $62.75 for being 3,100 over on his second axle. He was nabbed on Route 51, south of Cumberland.

The four fines amounted to $162.80, Magistrate Dick noted.

Church To Show Film 'King Of Kings'

The Churchmen's Brotherhood of St. Matthew's Evangelical and Reformed Church will sponsor a showing of the film, "King of Kings," on Tuesday, April 2, in the social hall of the church.

Rev. John B. Zinn, pastor, said the film will be open to the public and of interest because of the coming Passion Week and Eastertide. An offering will be taken.

An Oil Supply For Free World

The American petroleum industry, by emergency action of unparalleled magnitude, has rescued Europe from the most serious fuel crisis in its history. And it has accomplished this without depriving the rest of the world of a single drop of oil and without unwarranted economic returns. Who says so? Frank M. Porter, president of the American Petroleum Institute. And he marshals impressive facts and figures to buttress his statements.

The oil-for-Europe program is currently moving 2.1 million tons a month from the United States alone, roughly equivalent to the tons of food, fuel and supplies moved by the Berlin Air Lift in the entire 14 months of that heroic rescue operation. Mr. Porter presents statistics to refute charges that the country is swimming in gasoline and other petroleum products. Crude oil inventories are the lowest since 1951, he points out, and figures of stocks on hand are misleading because approximately 75 per cent of crude oil is tied up constantly to keep supply lines filled. These "unavailable," as oil men call them, are products the industry can use only on the day it goes out of business.

In supplying oil for Europe the American oil industry performed so well that none of the dislocations and inconveniences widely feared when the project was started materialized, and Porter says minor price increases which occurred were unavoidable because of rising costs.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Fashions Change

When we were all young, it was fashionable to have appendicitis and many died of it. Then they changed its name to an appendectomy and blamed it all on castor oil. Now not so many die of it. Instead now one has various forms of heart ailments, not the romantic kind that comes from unrequited love but the physical kind that comes from eating the wrong kind of foods.

Back when I was young, politicians smoked cigars, generally the two for a quarter kind, as that marked a man off as having moved a step up the ladder of life, the nickel cigar being for the common people. Nowadays, even the most advanced gentlemen in public life smoke cigarettes, unfiltered or filtered, the ordinary size or king size, but according to the doctors cigarettes could give you cancer. It used to be that cigarettes stunted the growth. A youth who smoked "cotton nails," as they were called, was not supposed to grow to be tall and to have hair on his chest.

Women did not smoke—certainly not in public. Of course, there were always the wrong kinds of women who should have been ashamed of themselves. They also put rouge on their cheeks which was the trade mark of an unmentionable profession that every boy learned about from other boys and contact with which was a sure cure for pimples and blackheads. If a girl became one of those, she was not called a celebrity but was sure to meet a fate worse than death.

It was a very good era that worshipped robustness. A woman who had less on her frame than Jayne Mansfield was regarded as unsafe to marry lest she be susceptible to tuberculosis which was called consumption. When the doctors fancied up the names of these sicknesses, they charged more to cure them. Consumption was something to be feared, as many got it and it was one of the great revolutions in medicine when it was discovered that fresh air, eggs and milk were the best cure.

Nobody had yet discovered orange juice. In fact, oranges were a fruit that showed up around Christmas time. They were small; their skin was pitted; and one ate them gingerly lest their juice squirt into the eye. There were no grapefruits. When orange juice was invented, squeezers came on the market. Nobody knew anything about vitamins. People drank orange juice because it tasted good. Before that, they ate stewed prunes and applesauce. In fact, in some parts of the country, apple pie was eaten for breakfast. Nobody was afraid of getting fat. The doctors had not yet discovered that obesity was a disease, although gluttony was a sin.

Ice cream was bought in a candy store. Nobody bought ice cream in a drugstore. Candy stores were generally run by Germans who also managed the better bakeries and restaurants, although the fanciest places were supposed to be French. Nobody objected to immigrants earning a living except in some places there used to be prejudices against the Irish, of whom it was said that they made the best household servants. Prejudices were regarded as normal among human beings who were accepted as imperfect and were not expected to be gods on earth.

In fact, the most amusing humor was the dialect story and such really great actors as Joe Weber, Lou Fields, David Warfield and others of that generation built their careers on dialects, the most popular being the German, the Jewish and the Irish. Today the dialect is more or less dead, having been killed by Hitler-scare small minds who are so lacking in a sense of humor that they can no longer laugh at themselves. Nevertheless, the dialect is so natural an expression of human fun that when Menasha Skutnik plays on Broadway in a Bronx-bred sing-songy English, it is hard to get tickets at any price. Of course, dialects change and the kind one hears nowadays, either authentic Brooklyn or third generation Bronx, is very different from the curious language of my childhood called English.

One can think of those good, unhurried old days with some nostalgic sentimentality—particularly when one recalls a world without real hate in it. Who expected a Syrian peddler to sell an authentic Oriental carpet? Did we have to hate him because he tried to make a dishonest buck?

He's Twitching A Little

Who Will And Who Won't Leave Washington?

WASHINGTON

The current best guesses on imminent or fairly imminent departures from the Eisenhower Administration are as follows:

Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson: definitely leaving soon.

Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks: probably leaving soon.

Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey: a toss-up whether he will leave after Wilson leaves.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles: the signs and portents point both ways, but he will probably stay through the year.

Secretary Wilson has not flatly said publicly or privately, that he is getting out. But everyone assumes he is. And there is an old Washington rule that when everyone assumes an important official is leaving, he leaves. Something mysterious happens to the official's power, position and prestige which makes it almost impossible for him to stay.

Speculation now centers, in fact, not on whether Wilson will leave, but on who will replace him. The leading candidate is thought to be Secretary of the Air Force Donald Quarles. Quarles, by accepting without real resistance the cuts in air power imposed by Wilson and Humphrey, has proved himself a "team player," and thus greatly improved his standing in the Eisenhower Administration.

Wilson is believed to favor Quarles, and is expected to nominate him as his successor in his official last will and testament. Quarles' chances have been hurt, however, by the prospective elevation of another team player, Air Force Chief of Staff Nathan Twining, to be Chairman of the Joint Chiefs. The Army and Navy, already fuller than usual of smoldering resentment against the Air Force, would howl blue murder if the top civilian and military posts both went to the Air Force.

Other well known names mentioned as possible Wilson replacements are Gen. Alfred Gruenther (since he is a general, an act of Congress would be required if he were appointed); Ambassador to the United Nations Henry Cabot Lodge (who is growing understandably restive in his present post); and former Governor of New York Thomas E. Dewey.

Less well known names are also being advanced. One is that of Neil McElroy, president of Proctor and Gamble. McElroy is an able man as well as a staunch Republican, but he has had no first hand experience of the Pentagon can of worms. Another dark horse is Lee White, a former Assistant Secretary of the Air Force, who is said to have the backing of important New York financial circles.

As for Secretary Weeks, he has been talking for a long time about getting out, and he reportedly now sounds as though he really means it. Particularly since Secretary of Labor James Mitchell defeated hands down Weeks' bid to control labor policy, the Secretaryship of Commerce is largely ornamental anyway.

Secretary of Treasury Humphrey's job is anything but ornamental. Since he kicked off the drive against the Eisenhower budget with his famous "curl your hair" statement, he is in a fair way to have his own way about the Eisenhower program, as it eventually emerges from Congress.

Republicans Quashed Earlier Probe Of Teamster Official Jimmy Hoffa

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — One of the most significant backstage developments in the teamster probe is that scandalous facts had been unearthed regarding teamster czar Jimmy Hoffa by the House Government Operations Committee in the early days of the Eisenhower administration. Then suddenly the probe was stopped.

Postmaster General Summerfield says he didn't stop it. The Republicans at that time controlled Congress. They stopped the probe. The individual GOP Congressmen in charge of the probe didn't want to stop it, complained bitterly and publicly about the stoppage. But they were stopped anyway.

Here is what they had discovered at the time they were stopped.

Jimmy Hoffa, together with the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, placed almost $20,000,000 of welfare funds with the Union Insurance Agency, Inc. between 1948-52. The partners operating this agency were Rose and Allen Dorfman, wife and son of Hoffa's intimate friend Paul Dorfman, who in turn is boss of the Waste Material Handlers Union in Chicago.

The insurance agency, in turn, placed its business with the Union Casualty Co., and the Union Public Service Co., organized by Leo Perlman, a refugee from Hitler, whose business, thanks largely to the Teamsters' welfare funds, mushroomed overnight.

His companies, in turn, paid

Rose and Allen Dorfman and their agency "in excess of $1,000,000" in "commissions and service fees between October 1949 and June 30, 1953," according to the official finding of the House Committee headed by Congressman Clare Hoffman, Michigan Republican.

"It was disclosed that approximately $101,000 in checks payable to Allen Dorfman were not deposited to the agency's bank accounts," the Committee also reported.

When the Congressmen asked Dorfman if he had paid this or any part of it to Jimmy Hoffa, he refused to answer. Time after time he pleaded the 5th Amendment.

It was also disclosed that Perlman's insurance company made fees of $1,200,000 from the Teamsters' and Brotherhood of Electrical Workers' welfare funds. These were funds which individual dues-paying members in Michigan and the central states had entrusted with Hoffa and with the IBEW for investment.

But suddenly, as the Congressional Committee was striking pay dirt, its operations were mysteriously and abruptly suspended. Said Committee counsel William F. McKenna: "We were silenced before we could make public certain important financial-legal aspects of the Teamsters' operations."

Note — All this was known as early as 1953, yet no action was taken to suspend Dorfman's Waste Materials Handlers local charter in Chicago.

Texas Senator's Insurance Co.

While the public is watching next week's special Senate election in Texas, the temporary Senator from Texas has been using his position to try to block an investigation into his private insurance business. He is William Blakley, appointed by outgoing Gov. Allan Shivers last January to keep the Texas seat warm until the April election.

Blakley is a soft-spoken Eisenhower Democrat who owns millions in real estate and professes no political ambitions beyond his three-month Senate term. He has behaved like a model stopgap Senator, keeping discreetly in the background — with one curious exception. His only significant act has been to harass the Federal Trade Commission over its insurance investigations.

What makes this interesting is that Blakley's own company is under investigation as one of the worse alleged violators. In fact, Blakley personally was named a defendant because of his past habit of dissolving corporations that got in trouble.

Blakley is chairman of the Girardian Insurance Company, which the Trade Commission alleges has been using phony advertising to sell insurance policies. The company deliberately misled policyholders into believing they were entitled to insurance benefits that the fine print in the contract didn't allow, according to the FTC.

"Any examination of Girardian's advertising, when contrasted with the actual terms of the policies," charges the FTC, "can lead only to the conclusion that the advertising is false, deceptive, and misleading."

Senator's Two Companies

Senator Blakley's company was found to be operating out of the back room of another insurance firm, Girard Life Insurance Company, which Blakley also owns. To prevent him from avoiding personal responsibility, the FTC took the unusual step of making the Senator personally liable.

Before he ever came to the Senate, Blakley had brought indirect pressure on the FTC through such powerful fellow Texans as Senate Democratic leader Lyndon Johnson.

Once Blakley became a Senator himself, however, he didn't go through friends. He used the full power of his temporary office to attack the agency that had been investigating him. His most brazen act was to take over the cross-examination of Edward Tait, when he came before the Senate Commerce Committee for confirmation to the FTC.

Usually a new Senator, particularly one serving only a three-month term, does not butt into a hearing. He is supposed to keep quiet and let his seniors do the questioning.

But Blakley waded into Tait with a barrage of questions and criticism. He challenged the FTC's jurisdiction over insurance cases and accused the FTC of "acting as judge, jury, and prosecutor." He charged that the FTC had the idea only its own staff was "competent" to decide whether advertising was deceptive.

Fellow Senators were startled at Blakley's unexpected attack. But they didn't know what was behind it. Blakley never bothered to explain that he was a defendant in one of the insurance cases he was complaining about.

His case is still pending before the FTC.

On The Side

Sixty-five years ago the only women in the world with the right to vote were those of the State of Wyoming. U.S.A. Now women can vote in 65 countries. Not, however, in Switzerland. The Swiss women have nothing to say about running the country. Yet Switzerland is considered one of the world's best managed nations. Has had no war for centuries. Enjoyed a long period of prosperity. Its currency is highly respected. It has never suffered from inflation.

PRIVATE HOMES

Though born in New York City, I did not first see the light of day in a flat or apartment. I was born in a private house. Something not generally known is that in New York City more than 540,000 families live in private homes. That is more than any other city in the country. Chicago is second in that respect. Los Angeles is third.

BEST MAN

A New Yorker, who has agreed to be the best man at a pal's wedding, expresses himself as somewhat nervous as to the assignment and very vague as to what is expected of him. That is not unusual. Many fellows in a similar position feel likewise. There should be a course of instruction available as to the duties of a best man. He has been described as a kind of "master of ceremonies." Anyway, his duties are varied and many. They are detailed in all the best books on etiquette. The question most frequently asked me by those scheduled for best men assignments is to suggest a toast to the bride and bridegroom. I do not think the best man is expected to make such a toast. My understanding is that the bridegroom offers a toast to the bridesmaids. And the best man replies to that toast.

HORSES AND WOMEN

The so-called "hour glass" figure is due for a revival. So I note it said. Very interesting. To possess an "hour glass" figure a 21-inch waist measurement is necessary. Anna Held and Lillian Russell did much to popularize this figure. I can understand how Anna might have achieved the appearance of a 21-inch waist. But Lillian Russell weighed 165 pounds. She must have had to do some real form compressing to feature an "hour glass" figure.

ASKING

Queries from clients. Q. We have eight sons. Chiefly because we have been trying for a daughter. What is the record for an all-boy family? A. Mr. and Mrs. Grover C. Jones of Peterson, W. Va., had 15 sons and no daughters. I understand they were trying for a daughter, too. Q. How long did the marriage of Tommy Manville and his ninth wife last? What did the ninth Mrs. Manville's divorce settlement amount to? A. The marriage you refer to lasted 27 days. I believe Mrs. Manville's settlement amounted to about $400,000. As you probably know, she recently married again.

RECORDS

Too many long playing phonograph recordings are too long. When too much is put on one disc, the tone is affected. For tone and all around excellence the best record I have recently listened to is that of "My Fair Lady" with the original cast doing the singing. We play it at least once each evening.

Aspirin Is Fine If Your Stomach Can Take It

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Aspirin is wonderful for headache and rheumatism but is hard on the stomach. The chemical is capable of producing nausea, vomiting, abdominal distress, and gastrointestinal hemorrhage. This explains why we tell our readers who ask if two or three aspirins a day are harmful: "No, provided your stomach can take it."

Dr. J. J. Kelly Jr. of New York City had three patients who bled from the stomach periodically for no apparent cause. One, an older woman, had numerous episodes of weakness secondary to the blood loss. She did not have digestive disturbance or abdominal pain. X-rays failed to reveal the usual causes of gastric hemorrhage, such as peptic ulcer, stomach cancer, liver disease, or hiatus hernia.

The mystery was solved when she mentioned that the symptom followed the use of aspirin for headache. Dr. Kelly investigated further. He found that the patient never took more than eight tablets and, as a starter, gave her two tablets four times a day. After 48 hours, bleeding from the stomach began. When aspirin was stopped, bleeding stopped, and when the drug was resumed, oozing started again.

This was enough to convince the physician that salicylates were responsible. The woman was cautioned against the use of aspirin, and in the 19 months that have elapsed, there has been no recurrence of bleeding.

More research followed. Dr. Kelly went over the records of 49 persons who had been hospitalized because of unexplained gastric hemorrhage; 16 had taken salicylates prior to bleeding. A search through the medical literature disclosed that other physicians had reported similar experiences.

One blamed aspirin for hemorrhage in 50 per cent of his cases. Dr. Kelly also noted references on the apparent relationship between the salicylates and peptic ulcer activity. He questioned a patient who entered the hospital with a bleeding ulcer and found that 20 per cent had been receiving salicylates.

When a gastroscope is used to view the inside of the stomach, it is easy to see what happens to an aspirin tablet that has been swallowed. In more susceptible individuals, the membrane becomes red and inflamed where ever aspirin sticks to the inner lining. Furthermore, large amounts disturb the clotting mechanism of the blood, encouraging bleeding.

Years ago Massey taught field artillery to ROTC students at Yale, numbering among his pupils Henry Luce, Jed Harris, and Stephen Vincent Benet. Graduated to directing plays, Massey's first cast included an unknown named Charles Laughton.

Extra flesh over the top back of a swim suit smoot away with simple exercises like these.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Tackle Back Bulge Before Swim Suit Time

It will take more than losing the arms outward at shoulder level with the backs of the arms bulges over the top of a swim suit. Yes, it has been weight gain and that put them there; but exercise, too, is necessary to get rid of them. The plump areas in the back, especially those under the arms, must be made firm as well as reduced.

Here's just the exercise routine to tackle the problem, and right now isn't too soon to get at it.

1. Sit with your elbows extended outward to the sides and with hands flat on your chest, fingers touching. Without moving the hands pull the elbows backward as if to make them touch. Pull backward as hard and as far as you can, very slowly. Return slowly and repeat ten times.

2. Still seated, outstretch your arms at shoulder level. Fling them diagonally up and behind your shoulders while you drop your head forward to touch your chest. Return and repeat very slowly 15 times.

3. Now lie on your back with the soles of your feet on the floor and your knees pulled up. Spread your hands on your shoulders and pull your elbows into your waist. Clench your fists and then swing your elbows backward and forward in a vigorous pumping motion. With every swing, make sure that the insides of the arms gently massage the roll under them.

Board Rejects Request For Liquor Permit

The Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners of Allegany County yesterday filed an order which upheld the remonstrance against the granting of a Class D beer, wine and liquor license to Mrs. Mary E. Reed for a proposed location at 442 Columbia Street, and rejected the application for the license.

Walter C. Capper, chairman of the board, with Stanley O. Hamilton and Howard W. Vandegriff, noted that the remonstrance was filed by Mrs. Mabel R. Snyder, 444 Columbia Street, and 43 others living on that street and in the immediate vicinity.

In commenting on the decision to reject the license application, the board gave the following reasons:

Columbia Street is at least a semi-residential street and there has never been a license for the sale of intoxicating beverages on Columbia Street excepting an off-sale beer license on the corner of Columbia and Valley streets, which has since been abandoned.

The street is one-way for travelers going in a northwesterly direction, is narrow and congested. In the immediate vicinity of the proposed location there is an elementary school attended by more than 400 pupils, most of whom are small children.

Testimony shows that the introduction of an intoxicating beverage license would endanger the safety of the children going to and from school.

The board ruled that there was no necessity to go into the question as to whether there are sufficient intoxicating beverages licenses in the vicinity of the proposed location, or to decide on the question raised by John M. Robb, counsel for the remonstrants, about the application being in violation of the city's zoning laws, or about certain signers who signed the same application originally intended for another location at Valley and Columbia streets.

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H stimulate it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

Frostburg Fire Department Anniversary Recalls Disastrous Fire Of 1876

Dinner And Dance Tomorrow Highlights Annual Observance

By WALTER E. MACKAY Frostburg NEWS Bureau

FROSTBURG — The Frostburg Fire Department will mark the 79th anniversary of its founding tomorrow evening with a dinner and dance for the members of the department and their guests.

The dinner will be served in the parish hall of St. John's Episcopal Church, Stoyer Street, by the ladies of St. Mary's Guild beginning at 6:30 p. m.

William A. Wilson, treasurer of the Maryland State Firemen's Association has been named toastmaster for the occasion and James S. Getty, assistant state attorney will be the speaker.

Following the dinner, members and their guests will attend a dance being held on the upper floor of the firemen's hall.

An interesting sidelight on the founding of the Frostburg Fire Department was given by Woodrow Layman, chief of the Department until recently, a position which he held for 11 years.

According to Layman, the "Great Fire of 1876" was the direct cause of the organization being formed on March 18, 1878. This fire started in a photographer's studio on East Main Street near where the Lyric Theatre now stands. After gutting this building the fire crossed Main Street and razed the building where the Hafer Furniture Company is now located, travelling westward and destroying everything in its path as far as Broadway.

Reaching the intersection of Broadway and Main Streets the flames moved southward destroying and is occasionally used by the city fathers to establish a more modern water system. Four separate "hose houses" were built in different sections of the town, and arrangements were made with St. Michael's Church to sound their church bell as an alarm when a fire occurred.

A modern fire engine was purchased in 1922. This piece of equipment is still in fair condition, and is occasionally used by the department. Layman states that several of the fires which have occurred in the business section of the city could easily have been several fire hydrants, owned by the Sprigg's Water Company, but there was very little water pressure and it was next to impossible to control such a fire with this equipment.

Immediately following this disaster, a citizen's meeting was called and the present Frostburg Fire Department No. 1 was organized. The late George B. McCulloh was named president; R. K. Mason, secretary and George H. Wittig, fire chief. Charter members in addition to the officers were, Frank Maurey, John Robeson, Charles Merrill, John Scott, John McCulloh, Daniel Scallely, Henry Albright, T. S. Preston, Charles Saurbaugh, Daniel Betz, John Benson, Samuel Adkins, Douglas Percy, Madison Gunnett, Worthington McCulloh, John Zimmerley, Bradford Berkble, Philip Pfifer, Theodore Gunnett, J. Thomas Hamill, James Arnold, William Parker, William Carson, Nicholas Carson, Benjamin Bowers, Jason Towles and Alfred Jeffries.

Operated Four Hose Houses

The first action taken by the newly organized fire company was to purchase equipment and urge the city fathers to establish a more modern water system. Four separate "hose houses" were built in different sections of the town, and arrangements were made with St. Michael's Church to sound their church bell as an alarm when a fire occurred.

A modern fire engine was purchased in 1922. This piece of equipment is still in fair condition, and is occasionally used by the department. Layman states that several of the fires which have occurred in the business section of the city could easily have been another 1876 fire had it not been for the well organized fire department, their modern equipment, and the improved water distribution system Frostburg now enjoys.

The Frostburg Fire Department now has four fully equipped trucks of various types, including an equipment truck which literally "takes the fire house to the fire".

Pioneer In Association

The Frostburg Fire Department was one of nine member companies to organize a Maryland State Fireman's Association. It was also instrumental in organizing the Allegany County Fireman's Association which is very active today.

There are at present 75 members in the Frostburg Fire Department, and a large percentage of this group has been awarded certificates of proficiency by the University of Maryland. Through the efforts of these men, Layman states, the insurance rates in Frostburg are among the lowest in the state.

A volunteer fireman receives nothing for his services, but his creed can be summed up very well by the slogan of the Frostburg Fire Department: "Our Deeds Are Our Rewards."

Finance Body Stops Pimlico Track's Close

Legislators Reject Measure For Move

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 27 (AP)—A move to abandon Pimlico race track and transfer its 40 days of racing to Laurel was stopped today by the Finance Committee of the Maryland Senate.

Chairman John Grason Turnbull (D-Balto County) said the committee voted behind closed doors today to reject legislation which would have made the move possible.

Turnbull said the committee decided to refer the proposal to the Legislative Council, a group of legislators who study and screen such subjects between sessions of the General Assembly.

Representatives of Laurel and Pimlico had sought the consolidation through a bill.

They contended the move was necessary because of zoning problems interfering with the expansion of the historic plant on the bustling northwest outskirts of Baltimore.

Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro and the City Council, arguing that Pimlico was the most heavily patronized track in Maryland, opposed its closing.

Vigorous opposition also came from the management of Bowie race track, the other major course in the state. Bowie spokesmen contended the consolidation would relegate their track to second-class status and ultimately mean its extinction.

The Senate Finance Committee also laid aside four other bills relating to horse racing in Maryland.

They would have prohibited any racing before March 15, figure betting payoffs to a nickel instead of a dime, exclude minors from the tracks, and reduce the number of mile racing days from 120 to 100.

Doane Signed

TORONTO, March 27 (AP)—The Toronto Argonauts tonight announced the signing of quarterback Dave Doane of Missouri University, increasing to 12 the number of new imports obtained for the 1957 Big Four football season. The 23-year-old Doane was the leading passer in the Big Seven Conference in 1955 and ranked 15th nationally among collegiate passers. He completed 52 of 113 passes for 774 yards, including four touchdowns.

Mae Smith's field goal with 15 seconds remaining in a two-minute overtime period gave the VFW a thrilling 33-31 victory over Wilson Hardware last night in a quarter-final match in the fifth annual Women's Rec basketball tournament at Fort Hill High School gym.

St. Mary's also advanced into tonight's semi-final round with an easy 33-16 conquest of the Toy Shop sextet in the other match played last night.

The VFW girls jumped off to an early lead in their game with Wilson's, leading 12-7, 21-14 and 25-19 at the quarters but the losers rallied in the final period to knot the count at 31-all at the close of the regulation game.

Leading the scoring for VFW was Mae Smith with 17 points while Connor had 18 for Wilson's. St. Mary's was never in trouble in racking up an easy win over the Toy Shop tossers. High for the victors was Miss Andrews with 17 points while Beckward had 10 tallies for the losers.

Fight To Wire Marks Shuffle League Races

Division Titles At Stake Tonight

The race for the regular season championship in both the American and National Divisions of the Allegheny County Men's Shuffleboard League ends tonight and it's a fight to a finish in the circuit that started the campaign with 20 teams and winds up with nineteen.

Tightest race in the American Division in which Frostburg American Legion (59-22) leads the Cumberland Knights of Columbus (58-23) by one game and these teams will collide tonight at Frostburg. Goodfellowship Club (44-37) appears safe in third place but there are three teams still with a fighting chance of finishing fourth. They are Fort Ashby VFW (41-40), Cas Taylor's (40-41) and Clingerman's (38-43).

In the National Division Fisher & Robinette (65-16) leads by two games over Green's Chevrolet (63-18) as the regular season draws to a close. Fisher & Robinette visits Hann's Tavern tonight and Green's hosts the Cumberland Moose in a game postponed until Friday night.

Purple Heart has clinched third place with 58-23 and Hann's will finish fourth with 49-32.

The first four teams figure in the division playoffs and the two survivors battle it out for the league crown.

Tonight's schedule:

NATIONAL — Frostburg K. of C. at Golden Nugget, Fisher & Robinette at Hann's Tavern. Purple Heart wins three by forfeit from the Cumberland Eagles. Hi Dee Club plays at Cumberland W.O.W. and Cumberland Moose meets Green's Chevrolet in Frostburg or Friday night.

Adcock And Spahn Pace Braves Win Over Redlegs, 12-6

TAMPA, Fla., March 27 (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves, behind the fine pitching of Warren Spahn and two homers by Joe Adcock—one a grand slammer—defeated Cincinnati in an exhibition game today 12-6.

Smoky Burgess provided the only big thrill for Redleg fans when he also hit a grand slam home run. That came in the ninth with two out.

Spahn, who always has given Cincinnati trouble, allowed six hits in seven innings, one of them a homer by Bob Thurman. Don Gross and Tom Acker, Redleg regulars, were easy for Milwaukee batters, who pounded 14 hits.

Cards Edge Yanks, 1-0

Landrith Triples Home Only Score

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 27 (AP)—Righthander Johnny Kucks went the distance for the New York Yankees today, held the St. Louis Cardinals to four hits but lost the game 1-0. A double by Del Ennis and triple by Hobie Landrith gained the lone score for St. Louis in the second inning.

Herm Wehmeier, probable opening day hurler for the Redbirds, was touched for eight hits in seven innings and Larry Jackson permitted a ninth-inning single to Yogi Berra in his two rounds.

The Cards whipped up four double plays to take the sting out of nine New York safeties, with the result that no Yankee passed second base.

The world champions now have a string of 20 scoreless innings against them, having lost 1-0 in 11 innings to the Brooklyn Dodgers in their last previous game.

Minnie Minos collected three of Chicago's 11 hits. Herb Plews, Jerry Schoonmaker and Clint Courtney each got two for the Senators, who also compiled 11 hits.

Another Modest Market Rally Led By Steels, Rails

NEW YORK, March 27 (AP)—Steel and rail stocks led the market today for another stock market rally of modest proportions.

Some motors, aircrafts and manufacturers tagged along. Coppers did well.

Key stocks advanced from fractions to around 2 points. Some selected issues did better.

In addition, the Commerce Department reported the nation's economic activities in the first two months of 1957 were about even with the record pace of 1956.

Tobacco shares were firm as the Internal Revenue Service reported that the nation smoked 9 per cent more cigarettes in January than in the like month of 1956.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 60 cents to $174.20 with the industrials up 70 cents, the rails up 80 cents and the utilities up 20 cents.

Of 1,107 issues traded, gains outnumbered losses by 485 to 351. There were 48 new 1957 highs and 31 new lows. Among the 15 most active stocks, there were 13 advances one decline and one unchanged.

U.S. Hoffman Machinery was the most active stock up 1/4 at 10 1/2 on 35,600 shares. Second was Cities Service, up 1/4 at 60 1/2; third was Bethlehem Steel, up 1/4 at 42 1/2 on 23,400.

"Smittie", after nearly a month of workouts with Cincinnati, found that his right arm just didn't have it anymore. He has a job in Cincinnati as a salesman.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y. (AP)—Three successive identical scores in bowling, like a grand slam in bridge or a hole-in-one in golf, elude most competitors all their lives.

But three Jamestown bowlers recently shattered the law of averages on a single night.

Pete Gagliardi had a 191-191-191 series and Paul Reynolds and Bob Nystrom turned in series of 114-114-114.

Chest Moves To Dissolve, Loan To UF

County Fund Could Borrow $10,000; Meeting Set Today

The Cumberland Community Chest has taken initial steps to dissolve itself and to loan the County United Fund, Inc. $10,000 for organizational and other expenses prior to completion of the first fund campaign.

Lewis J. Ort, Chest president, said all nine Red Feather agencies have indicated affiliation with the County United Fund, with final action to follow study of the contracts.

A resolution of dissolution of the Chest adopted by the board. Mr. Ort added, will go before Chest members for final action at the annual meeting next January 16.

The original motion for the loan of $10,000 to the United Fund was suggested by Clarence Lippel, one of the charter members of the Chest, which was organized January 22, 1926.

Discussion Today

Today a panel roundtable discussion will be held at 12:15 p. m. at the Fort Cumberland Hotel for the purpose of discussing in detail the constitution and by-laws and proposed agreement between the Chest agencies and the United Fund.

The discussion will be led by Edmund S. Burke, president of the County United Fund; Mr. Ort, vice president; William R. Carscaden, chairman of the citizens committee which formed the United Fund, and Woodward Pealer, a director of the United Fund.

Invitations have been extended to the presidents of the nine agencies, their executive secretaries and finance chairmen.

Three local attorneys, William C. Walsh, W. Earle Cobey and William R. Carscaden, were called upon at a previous meeting of the Chest for advice in conjunction with dissolution.

The report of the attorneys points out that prior to the dissolution of the Chest, the County United Fund Inc. must be organized and have completed its first campaign, which means that it will have certain expenses prior to the receipt of any funds.

The amount of $10,000 will be loaned to the United Fund and will be repayable without interest, to the Chest on or before January 1, 1958.

Amendment Explained
The Chest Board of Directors recommended to the membership that the following amendment to the Constitution of the Chest be adopted at the annual meeting next January to permit dissolution.

"Article 9—Dissolution.
"The Cumberland Community Chest shall be legally dissolved, which dissolution shall be effective as of January 17, 1958. The dissolution shall be made in the following manner:

"a. All contracts of the agencies served by the Cumberland Community Chest shall be terminated effective January 16, 1958.

"b. All outstanding obligations, legally incurred by the Cumberland Community Chest up to and including January 16, 1958 shall be paid.

"c. The officers of the Chest, and they are hereby authorized, empowered and directed to transfer all remaining cash, and other assets, and records, of every nature and description of the Chest into County United Fund Inc., subject to the approval of all member agencies of the Chest.

"d. County United Fund Inc. shall receive such assets in accordance with paragraph d. subject to any outstanding obligations of the Chest.

"e. The officers of the Chest are further authorized, empowered and directed to sign any and all papers, checks, instruments, and other papers writing of every nature and description, and to take whatever other action may be necessary in order to carry out the intent and purpose of this Article."

The new office facilities of the County United Fund are now open at Room 503, Liberty Trust Building, offered as a community service of the bank on a temporary basis.

Funds Approved For Expanding Phone Service

Funds have been allocated for several Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company projects in Western Maryland, the board of directors of the utility company announced in approving expenditures of $8,144,000 for expanding and improving telephone service in Maryland.

For Western Maryland, $117,000 was approved to construct a new building to house new dial equipment at Frostburg as part of a $608,000 dial changeover project. In addition, $30,000 will be spent for switchboard positions and dial central office equipment at Oakland, and $18,000 for new poles and outside wire facilities at Flintstone.

Robert G. Garner, manager of the C&P Telephone Company office in Cumberland said the company expects to have the dial conversion in Frostburg completed sometime in 1958.

The plans are still in the making for the new central office building there which will house facilities for approximately 3,000 telephones serviced in that area. Final plans in the overall project have not been completed with regard to combining the dial equipment building with the main business office at Frostburg, Mr. Garner said.

The new building will be erected in a vacant lot on Main Street a short distance from the present office location there, he said.

The funds for the Oakland project will be used to build an addition to the C&P Telephone office building there. The expansion is being made to meet the growing needs of the Oakland area for telephone service, he stated.

New Church Planned On Columbia Avenue

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints has purchased a lot on Columbia Avenue and plans are under way to erect a chapel.

In conjunction with the supper, there will be a sale of baked goods, quilts, aprons and other needlework. Funds realized will go into the church building fund.

Westernport Council Passes Zoning Law

Westernport town council last night took final action toward the adoption of a zoning ordinance for the community at a meeting in the council chamber. According to Mayor Okey Michael about 24 citizens attended the meeting and no objections were raised to the final form of the ordinance.

The new code provides for the appointment of a building inspector for one year, and for three members of a board of zoning appeals to serve terms of one, two and three years respectively.

The town is now zoned, under the new ordinance, into residential areas, business areas and industrial areas. No present buildings are affected.

The ordinance provides a fine of from $5 to $100 for each conviction in violation of the provisions.

State Safety Meeting Set

R. Finley Thompson, plant manager of the Amcelle plant of Celanese Corporation of America and Henry A. Johnson, supervisor of safety and plant protection, have been selected to serve on committees for the Governor's annual safety-health conference which will be held in Baltimore on May 9 and 10.

Mr. Thompson has accepted the invitation to be a member of the honorary committee and Mr. Johnson will serve on the committee of arrangements.

Since the inception of the governor's Annual Safety-Health Conference, the Amcelle safety department has been represented each year. However, this will be the first Maryland conference for Mr. Johnson, who was transferred here from the Charlotte office of Celanese last fall.

In his letter of invitation, Governor McKeldin said, "The prevention of needless accidents is a challenge to every individual. I believe our annual safety conference has been instrumental in bringing to the attention of many of our citizens the vigilance which must be exercised at all times in order that the appalling number of accidents which now occur at work, at home and on our highways can be appreciably reduced."

An investigation is being continued by Troopers D. A. Tucker and W. E. Foreman, who said the boy was taken to the hospital in the ambulance of the Corriganville Volunteer Fire Company.

The accident occurred at the west limits of Barrelville. The boy resides at Woodcock Hollow between Barrelville and Mt. Savage.

Your Red Cross: Bloodmobile Program Vital But Expensive

By F. ALLAN WEATHERHOLT
News Staff Writer

Among the 10 major Red Cross services, the Blood program probably is the most important. It is the newest of all the Red Cross services and has helped save more lives in recent years than any other single phase of Red Cross activity, including water safety, first aid and disaster relief.

It is a program of living insurance, designed to help civilians young and old, as well as men and women of the Armed Forces. Not only does it provide needed blood and plasma in medical and surgical emergencies, but it also helps provide the blood needed by researchers in their constant efforts to learn new uses for this life-giving fluid in treatment of many ills.

In some communities such as Cumberland and Allegany County, Red Cross blood services meet the entire blood needs. In others, Red Cross supplements other local blood supplying needs. The program is licensed by the National Institutes of Health, and operates on a regional basis, with programs varying from single to multiple chapter operations.

Fills Many Needs

Allegany County Chapter Red Cross is a member of the Johnstown Regional Blood Bank, and as such can draw any amount of blood needed here, and in return must sponsor regular blood collections, to replace that which is used.

Across the country, blood was supplied for 3,900 hospitals last year, totaling 2,073,000 pints. Blood is also provided the armed forces and for research. The cost of the blood collection and processing and distribution last year in the whole country was $3,753,644.

In Allegany County, 2,789 pints were collected at a cost of nearly $7,000.

No charge is ever made by member hospitals for Red Cross blood. The hospital does make a service and administration charge for each blood transfusion, amounting to from $5 to $10, depending upon the location. Hospitals explain that this is their charge, and has nothing to do with the Red Cross. The same charge is made no matter where or how blood is obtained.

Monthly Collections

Since Allegany County is a member of the Johnstown Regional Blood Center, it is necessary to have a bloodmobile come here at least once a month to collect blood. The local chapter must defray the actual expense of each visit, and must also provide refreshments served donors, and other incidental expense. Thus it actually costs the Red Cross about $2.46 per pint to collect, transport, and handle the blood.

There are 49 Red Cross regional blood centers in the country, similar to and including Johnstown.

Free blood in local hospitals for those who need it would not be possible without the annual dollars contributions to the Red Cross fund; nor without the doctors, nurses and other people who volunteer their time and effort each month at the blood center. None of these people are paid to do this task.

Since it is the most costly item in the local Red Cross budget, and also since it is the newest, it is always the first one that seems most likely to be reduced in size, scope and cost, if campaign funds fall short of the quota or goal.

The goal of the Red Cross drive this year is $37,000 with about $11,000 yet to be collected. Most of this must come from the Classified Section and the Women's Division.

Blood donors are also needed at each bloodmobile visit. Red Cross will furnish any information desired.

Phone Company To Honor Man

Oscar J. Nash, 518 Pearre Avenue, will be honored today for over 30 years' service with the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company.

Mr. Nash will be presented with a 30-year service emblem by C. P. Goodell, division plant manager from Baltimore, at a noon luncheon program at the Cumberland Country Club.

Robert G. Garner, local C&P manager, said Mr. Nash started in 1922 with American Telephone and Telegraph and came to the C&P in 1927 as a lineman assigned to Hagerstown. He later transferred to Cumberland, then to Frostburg, and in 1936 went to Lonaconing as local office manager there.

Mr. Nash returned to Cumberland as line foreman in 1938 and has continued in that capacity to the present time. He is married and has one son, Lt. Charles W. Nash, stationed at Fort Benning, Ga. Mrs. Nash was employed by the phone company for 15 years and is still working on a part-time basis, Mr. Garner said.

Among guests expected to be present at the luncheon are H. N. Gemmill, division plant supervisor from Hagerstown, and C. R. F. Alter, construction supervisor of Cumberland.

Senate, House In Conflict On Teacher Pay

Favor Different Financing Plans

BULLETIN

ANNAPOLIS, March 27 (AP)—The Maryland Senate tonight passed and sent to the House a bill calling for a $350 across-the-board pay increase for school teachers, to be financed by a state tobacco tax.

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS, March 27 (AP)—The Senate and House of Delegates moved steadily tonight toward a head-on collision on the question of how to finance a pay raise for Maryland school teachers.

Sen. Turnbull (D-Balto County), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, bluntly warned his colleagues that the matter would probably have to be thrashed out in a conference committee of the two houses.

While the Senate gave tentative approval to a tobacco tax to raise the money, the House adopted without a word of debate a proposal by its Ways and Means Committee to increase the state income tax rate 1/2 per cent.

The Senate planned a final vote on its plan tonight after disposing of attempts to substitute an income tax raise for the tobacco tax.

The House is not expected to act finally until tomorrow, when the income tax recommendation will rise or fall.

There was little doubt following this afternoon's session that the Senate would send the House its bill calling for a 2 cents per pack state tax on cigarettes, 1 to 3 cents on cigars and 1 cent per 20 per cent package of smoking or chewing tobacco.

Tobacco Tax Approved
The proposal by the Senate Finance Committee won easy approval on a voice vote.

Opponents readied a substitute in the form of an income tax increase, but it was given little chance of success.

Turnbull told the Senate that his committee had given a "variety of tax proposals" careful thought before coming up with its recommendation. He and other members warned against tampering with a major revenue source such as income or sales tax for a special project when it might be needed more next year for general state problems.

The Senate is contemplating raising only $7,229,250 which would give all teachers, principals and supervisory employees a flat across-the-board increase of $350 in present salaries.

Turnbull reiterated that the original bill from the Department of Education called for considerably higher increases for principals and others, some ranging as high as $2,100, and provided for additional spending on operation of schools.

Would Cost $10 1/2 Million

The House bill retains these features and calls for an average salary of $400 per teacher. Its overall cost would be 10 1/2-million dollars. "What this bill (the Senate version) will do is precisely what the Department of Education, civic groups and parent teacher associations asked for," Turnbull said. "It will give the top dollar available in raises for teachers themselves."

Both he and Sen. Northrop (D-Montgomery) struck back at those in the educational system who they said had criticized the Senate plan since it was announced yesterday.

Turnbull said one proponent telephoned him and complained that the committee was "tampering with the equalization formula" by not approving a 20 per cent amount for overhead expenses.

Turnbull said he asked the caller if he would prefer cutting back the teacher salaries to $250 in order to approve the overhead expenses and stay within money available.

He said he got no answer to the salary cutback. "But I was told 'We don't care where the money comes from; that is your problem.'"

"We will be criticized whatever tax we pass," Turnbull said, "but at least we will know we have faced up to our responsibilities."

Northrop, head of a special Legislative Council committee which studied the problem between sessions.

Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, will hold its annual election April 8 from 1 to 9 p. m. at the Legion post home, Harrison Street. The post has a total of 1,025 members eligible to ballot.

At the regular meeting Tuesday, the following candidates were nominated:

Harold W. Davis, commander; Vernon Crable and Paul W. Weisenmiller, first vice commander; Walter Hensell and Bernard Hill, second vice commander; Russell C. Paupe, adjutant; William C. Coble Jr. and Joseph Nichols, finance officer; Lawrence Lease, chaplain; William L. Ranck, historian; Joseph Macon, sergeant at arms; Perry B. Edmiston, Thomas B. Finan, Phil Fleming and Howard Loughrie, executive committee.

Charles Griffith, present commander, automatically becomes a member of the executive committee for one year.

The nominating committee included Paul C. Weisenmiller, chairman; Richard A. Reid, Robert C. Wilson and Truman Fuller.

The post paid tribute to A. Florian Wilson, who died Tuesday, and he was eulogized by several officers and members. Past Commander Raymond R. Farrell recalled that Mr. Wilson helped plan the return of veterans to their old jobs at the end of World War II, and helped disabled veterans, as well as those not handicapped physically, in returning to civilian occupations.

When the program of returning the bodies of World War II dead began, Mr. Wilson arranged work schedules to permit members of the Legion burial squadron to perform military rites and honors at burials.

Commander Griffith told the membership that the veterans of this area "have lost a true friend" in the death of Mr. Wilson. The membership honored him with a formal moment of silence.

Road Work Slated At Sewage Unit

Workers at the city's sewage treatment plant last week were cutting temporary drainage ditches along roads of the 10-acre site off Offutt Street in preparation for paving, according to Mayor Roy W. Eves.

Other crews engaged in final tasks at the $2,000,000 plant are shaping the slopes of the levees which protect the site from Potomac River floods.

Glass was going up on the covers for four sludge drying beds and painting and electrical work was in progress.
